What does this e-Learning package offer employers?

- Significant reduction in training costs and time off the job
- Transfer and application of knowledge in the workplace through offline assignments
- Demonstration of knowledge and competence that can be measured against Cogent Gold Standards
- Enhance your e-Learning programme with additional on or off-site support from specialist providers or associates

What does this e-Learning package offer employees?

- Flexibility to study at your own pace
- Progress and practice – multiple choice questions in each module with instant feedback to reinforce your understanding
- Offline assignments to help you apply your learning in the workplace
- End of module tests to track your progress
- References and resources – access to additional supplementary materials
- Recognition: If registered for the NEBOSH Awards, successful candidates will receive a NEBOSH certificate

Design & Development

Designed and developed in partnership with DeltaNet International Ltd, and in consultation with representatives from Industry, Cogent SSC, the National Examination Body for Safety and Health (NEBOSH) and Academy accredited training providers, the programme delivers a rich resource of interactive learning materials combined with downloadable offline assignments, that support candidates to achieve a solid foundation in health and safety knowledge.

These high quality resources also provide the underpinning knowledge for the new NEBOSH Level 2 Award in Workplace Health & Safety, and an additional qualification currently being piloted and due to be launched later this year as the NEBOSH Level 2 Award in Safety, Health and Environment for the Process Industry. Separate registration will be required for the NEBOSH Awards.

What does it cover?

The materials cover the following comprehensive range of topics; Workplace Safety Foundations:

- Foundations of health & safety
- Responsibility for health & safety
- Health & safety risk assessment and control
- Work equipment health & safety
- Transport safety
- Electrical safety
- Fire safety
- Health & safety during manual handling and repetitive activities
- Hazardous substances
- Health & safety in the working environment

How is the e-learning delivered?

Our Gold Standard Workplace Health & Safety e-learning materials are made available through the Academy's Learner Management System (LMS).

Candidates can be registered by either their employer or training provider and login details are sent direct to the candidate, giving them instant access. As candidates work their way through the programme, they can complete a module at a time, or dip in and out of the modules as they choose.

End of module tests provide a valuable assessment of each individual's progress, and administrators can track progress and performance through the LMS.

What does it cost?

Rates apply to Academy Business Partners and Academy Accredited Training Providers.

Candidate license fee price range
From	To	Unit Price

e-Learning licenses?

The annual fee covers the cost of secure hosting and includes the first 10 candidate licenses. Employers can manage their own employees' learning through a secure LMS by purchasing an annual e-Learning license and blocks of individual candidate licenses.

What other options are there?

Where you may only wish to buy a small number of licenses, these can be purchased direct from the Academy or from licensed training providers or associates.
